

PARIS & LONDON DESIGN & INSPIRATION TRIP

October 3-11, 2010 With Kathryn Brenne

This year we are combining our trip to Paris with a day trip to London! On Thursday, October 7, the high speed Eurostar will take us to London first thing in the morning where we have an appointment to visit the archives of Hardy Amies located on Saville Row. The couture house of Hardy Amies dressed Queen Elizabeth II for over 40 years. We will view the exhibit 'Hardy Amies and the Queen' and then spend the rest of the day in London visiting fabric shops and boutiques. This is your chance to visit Liberty of London for their beautiful printed fabrics. We will return to Paris later in the evening.

Paris is the fashion capital of the world! Kathryn Brenne will take you on a designer's tour of the most inspirational fashion city in the world. Participants will learn how to develop a trend forecasting story board portfolio. Discussion topics will include sketching, color, accessories, design details, fabrics and texture and factors that influence fashion. A tour of the fabric district with its wonderful button, trim and fabric stores will get your creative juices flowing! Each day we will visit a different part of the city. Highlights will include a wonderful notions store, second hand shops and a walking tour of the Marais district with its small designer boutiques. See the newest trends and latest styles at a fashion show. There will be plenty of free time to tour Paris, stop at cafes, stroll the Avenue des Champs Elysees, visit museums, dream at designer boutiques, visit famous flea markets and fall in love with one of the most romantic cities.

An optional day tour for Saturday, October 9 will be available to visit the war memorials located in Normandy.
